Jens Nordvig, CEO of Exante Data

Jens Nordvig, CEO of Exante Data, highlighted the strategic intent behind some tariffs, such as those targeting China. However, he pointed out the broader controversy surrounding tariffs on allies like Canada and Mexico, suggesting they might serve as negotiation tactics. Still, Nordvig warned, "The risk is that those negotiations fail," leading to unintended economic consequences. The debate underscores the complexity of Trump's trade policies and their uncertain impact on global markets.
